CRUISE TOPICS

EXPECTING THE UNEXPECTED:

MANAGEMENT OF MEDICAL EMERGENCIES IN THE DENTAL OFFICE

Emergencies can and do occur. Medical emergencies can pose a particular challenge for dentists. The presenting problems are inherently unexpected and the management of such issues is not something dentists typically practise on a regular basis.

INSTRUCTOR

DR. STEPHEN ING

B.Sc., D.D.S., M.Sc. (DENTAL ANESTHESIA)

IMPLANT COMPLICATIONS: WHAT, WHEN, WHERE, WHY, AND HOW TO MANAGE

Complications and failures in implant dentistry can range from minor to major, reversible to irreversible, and problematic to catastrophic. This course will outline and address the various components of implant complications and failures. An emphasis will be placed on "Treatment Planning" flaws leading to compromises or complications in the final clinical outcomes.

DR. MARK LIN
